

CASE STUDY: ANGLICARE ROOTY HILL, NSW

'An exciting community with a contemporary look'

Newly opened Rooty Hill Village offers a safe, vibrant and friendly place to live, consisting of independent retirement living apartments, access to home care services and a residential aged care home. Craig & Co Interior Design achieved a stunning and practical result using Signature healthcare products that will serve the needs of now and well into the future.

Project Brief:

The flooring brief requested a textured looking carpet that would withstand heavy foot traffic and general wear over time, whilst also complementing the interior of the modern aged care residence.

Project Challenges:

Craig & Co wanted to create a dynamic space with highlights of colour to add a vibrant touch. The designers wanted the floor to have a personalised and unique look, whilst also remaining within a tight budget. The floor also had to be extremely hard wearing so to withstand the heavy foot traffic.

Why Signature Floorconcepts:

Verve Plus intelli carpet tiles were chosen as they feature colour fast solution dyed nylon fibre and a multi-level loop pile that resists crushing and wear. They are durable and easy to replace should any hard to remove stains occur, making these carpet tiles the perfect choice for this busy space. Custom colours were used to create the eye catching design of the carpet tiles, which add depth and dimension to the corridors and common areas. The darker tones in the carpet also help to camouflage any spotting, which was an essential part of the brief.

Client Feedback:

Craig & Co Design stated they were very happy with the product and will be using the carpet tiles for future projects.

Credits:

Signature Floors - Andrew Davis

Designer - Craig & Co Interior Design, Margaret Butler-Nixon

